

90's

Written & Edited by:
RobbiAnn Cabaniero-Buendia
Ashley Bertolet

Photography by:
Tara Kelly

The Choker

The easy trend that all of our favorite 90's stars wore has come back! Today we have put a spin on the classic choker. Now you can choose from lace, leather, suede, ribbon, velvet and many more that your heart desires. Wear it casually with a simple tee or wear a thick black velvet choker for a more edgy, fun look if you're going out with the girls.

The Tousled Hair

Beachy but clean. Tousled hair gives a freeing and peppy vibe to any look. Dress it up or dress it down. All while having a modern twist on a 90's trend. Style that "I woke up like this" hair-do for spring and summer!

The High-Top

High-Top converse are forever a staple piece in your wardrobe. From the 90's to today, they are still just as hip and popular. Style them with some mom jeans and a crop top in the spring for the perfect laid back outfit.

The Flannel

Dive into the Seattle grunge trend and rock a flannel! Dig into your parents closets or your local thrift stores to find some vintage and unique pieces. Wear them during any and all seasons so you always have a little edge to your look.

Tie them around your waist, wear them unbuttoned, buttoned up, or any which way your fashionista heart desires.

The Berry Lip

If you are feeling bold and trendy this look is for you! The berry lip was a 90's beauty staple and now it has come back. You can spot it being worn with fun beachy tousled hair or to compliment the timeless smoky eye.

The Vans

Bring some 90's flavor to your shoe collection with these back in style black and white checkered Vans. Checkered Vans add some personality to your look all while being vintage inspired.

The Denim Jacket

This trend will never leave our sight. The denim jacket is good to wear during the winter and spring season. A nice stylish cover up that can be light for the spring or layered with in the winter. You can see this trend coming back this spring season oversized with distress and stitched on big embroider roses.

The Platform

Who could forget watching the spice girls rock those crazy sky high shoes that turned into the famous platform shoe trend. Today they have downgraded in size but still keep the unique chunky look of the original trend. Wear these with a sporty look or complete it with a whole 90s trend with a pair of distressed boyfriend jeans and your favorite well-loved graphic tee.
